

Quick Reference Guide Compliance Code Compendium

This compendium is a list of country compliance codes relating to the various sections of the Smith & Nephew Code of Conduct. This document highlights the codes applicable to each country. As stated in the Code of Conduct, in the event that local laws, regulations, or industry codes are more stringent than the Smith & Nephew Code of Conduct or its interpretation in any respect, then the local laws, regulations, or industry codes must be followed. However, if local laws, regulations, or industry codes are less restrictive, then the Smith & Nephew Code of Conduct must be followed unless a documented exception is approved by the Global Business Unit (GBU) President and relevant Compliance Officer.

Events where Healthcare Professionals (HCPs) from a different countries participate:

- Before the event, the Compliance Officers of each country must agree with each other what the differences are in the relevant Codes of Conduct to ensure that the most stringent code is followed
- Any promotional materials, proposed gifts, payments, travel arrangements, accommodations and any other activities related to the event must not contravene the code in any country
- This procedure must be followed BEFORE the HCP is invited to participate in the event
- The Compliance Officer in the HCP's home country must provide documented approval for any consulting or speaking services which an HCP will provide to another country to ensure that fees proposed do not exceed the home country fair-market value and do not violate the contract the HCP may have with Smith & Nephew
- Where there is any disagreement among compliance officers, the Compliance Council will arbitrate and make the final decision
