Disclaimers

The Smith+Nephew Education Unlimited website is designed for the education of healthcare professionals on the subject matters contained therein, and for the global exchange of professional knowledge, scientific research results and practical medical information among such professionals.

The website contains content prepared by Smith+Nephew and content prepared by other authors. Care has been taken to maintain the accuracy of the information indicated as being prepared by Smith+Nephew on these web pages. However, Smith+Nephew cannot warrant the accuracy of any information and cannot be held liable for any use or reliance on any of the information contained on this website (unless otherwise agreed in writing). Contributions published on the website under the names of individual authors contain the statements and opinions solely of those individual authors and not of Smith+Nephew. Comments contributed by other authors and medical practitioners on this website are not endorsed or approved by Smith+Nephew.

The website has been created for use by qualified medical professionals, even where access to content has not been restricted. Users' identity and qualifications may not be verified on access to the website and therefore inappropriate access by non-qualified persons cannot be reasonably avoided. Smith+Nephew Education Unlimited operators may not be held liable for any damage or harm resulting from inadvertent, inappropriate or ill-advised access to, and reliance on, information contained on the website.

The information contained on this website is provided for informational and educational purposes only and is not intended to serve as medical advice, nor endorse any named institution or author. The website may contain information on Smith+Nephew products, educational content, and/or demonstrate certain techniques used by authors and medical practitioners. Smith+Nephew does not provide medical advice. Any procedures or therapies described on these web pages should only be performed by certified and trained medical professionals. It is the responsibility of medical practitioners to determine and utilize the appropriate products and techniques, according to their own clinical judgment, for each of their individual patients. For more information on the application of any products referenced on the website, as well as indications for use, contraindications, and product safety information, please consult the applicable Instructions for Use (IFU) for such product.

The website may contain information and discussion (including the promotion of) methods, procedures or products that may not be available in certain countries or regions, or may be available under various other trade or service marks, names or brands. Methods, procedures and products may also be subject to regulation and governmental approval, clearance or restrictions in other countries or regions. It is recommended that users obtain information about such regulation in their home country. Products mentioned may not be available or authorized for distribution in all markets. Please contact Smith+Nephew if you have questions about the availability of Smith+Nephew products in your area.

Although all advertising material which may be included on the website is expected to conform to ethical (medical) standards, inclusion on the website does not constitute a guarantee or endorsement by Smith+Nephew of the quality or value of such product or of the claims made of it by its manufacturer. Alternative products may be available from other manufacturers.

Links or referrals to other internet sites operated by third persons are made for users' convenience only. Although Smith+Nephew Education Unlimited operators undertake reasonable efforts to verify, from time to time, the correctness or appropriateness of the referral to the sites, we do not assume liability for the contents of such sites or for any damage or harm resulting from users' access to such sites. Smith+Nephew Education Unlimited operators do not guarantee that files available for downloading from this internet site are free from malicious software or codes. Smith+Nephew suggests the use of effective protective software.
